

What right does the National Association of Broadcasters have to dictate what I listen to on my radio? None I hope! I pay a monthly fee for XM Satellite radio and I appreciate the services offered by XM radio for this fee. I chose satellite radio because of poor programming on public radio and excessive advertising. I regularly use instant traffic and weather from XM and do not want to lose this service. The FCC needs to focus their efforts on controlling illegal communication activities instead of wasting time with lobbyists paid for by the NAB. I thought I lived in a free country! Please do not prove me wrong.
